EASTERN NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

The Evening Express on the Situation.

NEW YORK, Sept 19.—The Evening Express to-night sums up the situation as follows: "The day closes with fewer killed and wounded than might be expected, all things considered. No trust company suspended, and no bank refused payment, and all the great railway corporations are apparently as firm as a rock. Rumor, however, is not yet satisfied, and it warns everybody to beware. Stock values have sunk enormously, but when bottom is touched, a rebound will be as usual inevitable. Business in nearly all branches of produce is at a stand still and in fact almost bordering on general demoralization. Everybody is looking out for the money. Holders of goods are not disposed to realize. A feverish feeling prevails. Many merchants fear a greater depression unless the Government comes to the rescue. The cause of the financial crash is imputed to agitation in the Western States threatening legislation hostile to railroads. These reports caused European bankers to decline advances on American railroad securities. The immediate cause of the suspension of Fisk & Hatch is that the firm advanced more than $1,000,000 to the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company on construction and equipment account, taking as security their mortgage bonds. The road is now earning enough to pay expenses and interest on first mortgage, and can take care of itself excepting debts to the bank. It is understood that the C. P. R. R. Co. has been affected by the failure of Fisk & Hatch as that company have been bankers of late.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The house of F. Randolph & Co., whose suspension is noticed, was Tom Scott's New York house. Randolph is a son-in-law of Scott. The reason for the last named failure, as stated by the head of the firm, was the absolute impossibility of obtaining means due them from other parties. To day [illegible] failures have been reported. Most of the brokerage firms who suspended to-day expect to resume business in a short time.

Dispatches say C. P. Bayard & Co., one of the oldest and most reliable firms of Philadelphia, have suspended. The street at the close of the Board presented an intensely excited appearance, when the closing gong sounded. [illegible] of the Board gave three rousing [illegible]. Another exciting day is predicted for to-morrow.

[illegible] Excitement in New York—Numerous Failures Reported.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The suspension of Fisk & Hatch is said to make a probable [illegible] of the Hoboken Savings Bank. A number of telegrams have been received at the Postoffice requesting the P[illegible] to withhold from delivery letters bearing stamps of firms sending messages and which were addressed to Jay Cooke & Co. The Postmaster could not comply with the request, as the postal regulations provide that after a letter has passed from the mailing office the delivery of it cannot be prevented or delayed by the alleged writer.

Great crowds throng Wall and Broad streets, and policemen are busy in keeping a free entrance and exit to the Stock Exchange. Failure of Kitchum & Belknap and E. C. Moorhead are the latest. It is reported that the National Bank of the Commonwealth has suspended. Saxe & Rogers have suspended. A meeting of the creditors of Jay Cooke & Co. will be held Monday.

The Fourth National Bank is [illegible] [illegible] upon it, and they are numerous.

One P. M.—The Stock Exchange close at 10 minutes to 12.

The [illegible] is announced of Tonney & [illegible], P. Meyers, Miller & Walsh, Laurens & [illegible], Dearing & Dellinger and Williams & Bostwick. A rumor seems rife at this time that a [illegible] exists in the Union Trust Co.

The President of the Bank of the Commonwealth says the run on the Fourth National [illegible] a run on that institution and Edward Haight & Co., overdrew their account to the amount of $200,000 which they did not make good to the extent of $170,000. Under the circumstances the bank thought better to [illegible].

1 P. M.—Notice is given that a general clearance cannot be effected to-day owing to the fact that many dealers find it impossible to get checks certified in the proper manner. All statements dockets and [illegible] will be returned to dealers on application at gold exchange banks.

Stocks are going up and down at a lively rate. Several sales have been made under rules, which would imply that failures have taken place, though only one is made known yet, that of A. G. White.

W[illegible] Union has touched sixty.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—It is hoped that the Stock Exchange will suspend its sessions until after the squall is passed over. It is believed that [illegible] action will aid in restoring confidence. The large mails arriving to-morrow will bring more than the usual amount of drafts and checks which must be met on Monday at early transactions, but the banks are to-day preparing to meet them.

Suspension of the Union Trust Co.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The Union Trust Co. [illegible] at half-past ten to-day. It is announced that it will resume on Monday morning.

The suspension of the Union Trust Co., it is likely, will make unavailable the balances of smaller brokers and force them into relief from active business for this day at least. Most of the sales are for cash, two or three per cent below regular transactions.

F[illegible] a circulating of the cause of the suspension of the Union Trust Co. and the defalcation of Edward Haight & Co. are just announced, having suspended certification and the Mechanics' Banking Association and Continental Bank have been thrown out of the clearing house.

The Condition of Gold.

NEW YORK, Sept 19.—Gold at 1 o'clock 111.

The Treasury to the Rescue.

WASHINGTON, Sept 19.—President Grant arrived in Washington this afternoon and had a conference with Secretary Richardson and determined that the Treasury should come to the relief of the New York market to morrow by purchasing largely of bonds and depositing a portion of the Treasury balance in National Banks on deposit in order to stop the panic. The President is fully determined to meet the emergency at once.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The Committee of Bank Presidents appointed to perfect a plan of relief on the present condition of affairs, is composed of Frederick Tappan, C. B. Levering, Geo. I. Coe and C. H. Hunter.

A special dispatch from Washington says Secretary Richardson leaves Washington this evening for New York. A conference will be held to-morrow morning at the sub Treasury to determine what action would be taken in the matter.

Governmental Measures for Relief.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Secretary Richardson has instructed Assistant Treasurer Hillhouse, of New York, to purchase at private sale bonds to the amount of $10,000,000 at the average price paid to-day. Similar instructions have been sent to Philadelphia.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The President arrived at the Fifth Avenue Hotel this evening from Long Branch. He immediately telegraphed Secretary Richardson to meet him in New York to-morrow morning. J. C. Colhoun, President of the Fourth National Bank, B. L. Vail, Cashier of the Bank of Commerce, Henry Clews, Henry G. Stebbins, Mr. Taylor and other prominent financiers have been invited to hold a conference with the President and Secretary to morrow to determine upon a plan to meet the present crisis. The President expresses his determination to use every power of the Treasury to the extent of the $16,000,000 balance and $44,000,000 reserve. There is a general feeling of confidence to night that the trouble is over. There was a great crowd of brokers in the Fifth Avenue Hotel corridors, and contracts were made for money at a per cent, gold interest.

Board Transactions.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Twenty eight million four hundred and sixty three thousand dollars in bonds have been accepted at 9 to 111. All offers of bonds under 111 are accepted by the Government.

Heavy Run on a Philadelphia Trust Company.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 20.—The Fidelity Trust Company did not close at 6 P. M., but continued to meet all demands, receiving checks as late as five o'clock, at which hour over $900,000 had been paid out.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 20.—The excitement over the failures has abated and matters are beginning to assume some shape. Although the stock market was somewhat feverish the day's affairs on the street were more settled, owing, no doubt, to the promise of the Secretary of the Treasury to make use of the $44,000,000 reserve fund if necessary.

The Situation in Boston.

BOSTON, Sept. 20.—The financial alarm in New York is the principal subject of discussion, but so far it does not interfere with business.

Heavy Storm in the South and Fatal Railway [illegible].

AUGUSTA, Ga., Sept. 20.—The heavy continued rainstorm on Friday and Friday night did considerable damage to the railroads entering this place, washing away culverts, wrecking trains, and killing several employes. At Branchville, on the South Carolina railroad an up passenger train from Charleston ran into a washed out culvert. The engineer, fireman and two passengers were killed. On the Central railroad the engine of the down freight ran into a washed out culvert about two miles below Milton. Six cars were piled up, the engineer and fireman were scalded, and the train master killed.

Three others were transferred by the Ravenscraig to the whaler Intrepid, which is expected to arrive in Dundee in two or three weeks. After the separation from Tyson and his companions, the Polaris was finally abandoned in a sinking condition by Captain Buddington and the remainder of the expedition. The party lived in Long Boat Cove, where they built timber houses which they covered with sails. Winter passed without any notable event except the breaking out of the scurvy, which however was unattended by severe symptoms. Plentiful supplies of walrus liver for food were obtained from the natives and to this diet is attributed the mildness of the disease.

CANADA.

The New York Panic in Canada.

MONTREAL, Sept. 20.—The only effect here of the panic in New York has been to make bankers more cautious and less willing to let out their funds, which are ample for all legitimate demands. The discount rate for good bills varies from 7 to 8 per cent, according to the standing of the names.

TORONTO, Sept. 20.—H. J. Morse & Co., bankers and brokers of this city have suspended owing to the failure of Jay Cooke & Co. and other prominent houses in New York.

Another story in connection with the suspension of the Union Trust Company is that the excitement yesterday so unnerved the Secretary that instead of calling in three million dollars he made a mistake and only called for $300,000, thus leaving the Company without funds, and causing its suspension. Merrill, Secretary of the National Trust Company says the Company is perfectly sound and that no depositors would lose a cent.

GOLD HILL, Sept. 20.—At 3 o'clock this afternoon while workmen were eating lunch, a fire broke out in the blacksmith shop belonging to the Belcher Company, situated on the 1,300-foot level in the Yellow Jacket, a short distance north of Jacket shaft. The fire spread rapidly and soon filled Yellow Jacket, Crown Point and Belcher mines with smoke and gas. At about a quarter past three an explosion occurred which put out the lights in all the mines. The men were hoisted from Crown Point and Belcher shafts rapidly, and all escaped but six whose bodies have since been recovered. Communication between the Imperial on the north and Crown Point on the south has been cut off. There is no danger of the fire spreading. The firemen can do nothing towards extinguishing the fire but it is in a place where there is not much timber, consequently it will soon die out. The following is the list of killed whose bodies have been recovered: Louis Louzelle, J. B. Waters, W. S. Brodwater, Jas. F. Niles, Thos. Cusick, Geo. B. Mudd. A number of others are very sick from gas and being burned but none are dangerously so.

GOLD HILL, Sept. 21.—The fire in the Yellow Jacket is entirely subdued. The water has been turned on through hose running down the shaft, and has been running steadily all day. The damage to the mine is very trifling. Men were put to work in the Belcher and Point this morning, but the works were all shut down at noon to allow the miners to attend funerals of their late comrades; Lewis Louzell and James Waters, who were buried at one o'clock, from the Catholic church. A large number of citizens attended. Thomas Cusick and W. S. Broadwater were buried by the Miners' Union. The associations of Virginia and Gold Hill turned out about 1,500 members escorted by Sarsfield and Montgomery Guards besides a large number of citizens. The funeral of George B. Mudd takes place to morrow from Masonic Hall.

HAMILTON, Nev., Sept. 20.—Young Matheny, the self confessed murderer of Green at Eureka, who was brought here for trial a few days ago, has been acting strangely ever since his arrival—bursting into tears whenever the Sheriff or Deputy enter his cell, and seemed to have something on his mind which he wished to confess to-day. Sheriff Patterson questioned him about his case, when he made another confession, saying that his first confession, in which he implicated Finney, was true. He says that Finney was the principal actor in the murder; that after the first confession, Finney told him if he would shoulder the whole thing upon himself, he (Finney) would assist him to break jail and would have a horse waiting for him near the jail to facilitate his escape. He was prevailed upon to make his second confession exonerating Finney. Since coming here he has given up all hopes of breaking jail and concluded his only chance was to make a full confession and shoulder the blame upon Finney, who is generally supposed to be the prime mover in the murder. Finney was arrested in Eureka to-day upon a warrant telegraphed from here and will be brought here immediately for trial.

PIOCHE, Sept. 20.—McKinney, who shot and killed Morgan Courtney on Aug. 1st, was acquitted this evening.

HAMILTON, Sept. 21.—This afternoon some Indians found the body of a Chinaman named Hong Lee—evidently murdered, lying in a clump of sage brush about three quarters of a mile from here, near Treasure City. His skull was fractured. A pool of blood was lying in the trail where he had been struck and the murderer had dragged the body several rods away in the bushes but made no effort to cover it up. The supposition is that he was murdered for his money.

McClure's Military Academy at Oakland was entirely destroyed by fire about 9:30 o'clock last night. The loss falls heaviest on Mr. McClure and will probably reach $40,000 altogether. Students and people made strong efforts to save the building, but had no adequate facilities for putting out the fire. The students were furnished shelter at Oakland during the night; many came to this city to-day.

Several cases of pocket picking and petty robbery have occurred at the Park and Pavilion, but comparatively few in proportion to the number of thieves and pick pockets in the city during the week.

OREGON CITY LETTER.

OREGON CITY, Sept. 20, 1873.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

What a difference it makes in a town when wheat is a dollar per bushel and plenty of it in the surrounding country! The difference on our town is very agreeably noticeable. We, probably in common with others, have been waiting for the last year for the turn of the month or the change of the season to bring better times. Money has been quite intemperate for quite a year, tight all the time, but now he is commencing to let up a little. We are told that there has been more wheat brought to town from the surrounding country—not up the river—during the past two weeks than was ever known to be brought in a whole season before, and still it comes. Yesterday the mills here were paying $1.05, but to-day they quietly resumed $1.

Strolling through town this afternoon we noticed a few things that may be of general interest.

The City Mills are buying largely, paying at present one dollar. They are running day and night averaging 300 bbls per day. During the last three weeks they have ground from 4,000 to 5,000 bbls. They are receiving large quantities daily both by cars and boat.

The Imperial Mills are running about eighteen hours per day, averaging 250 to 300 barrels per day. They are also buying largely. To day, while there, the Success and Albany were discharging their cargoes of wheat at their wharf. Their storing capacity is 20,000 bushels. They have seven "sets," are now running six. Bran is rating at $12 per ton, and middlings at $15 per ton. Quite a number of hands are kept employed now in receiving grain and shipping flour.

We next visited the Sack Factory. This institution is almost a sine qua non to the mills. It manufactures flour sacks only. It is owned and run by our townsman C. M. Kester. It employs two men and two boys. We were informed that for the last three weeks they have averaged 2,000 sacks per day. Here the sacks are cut, sewed, pressed and packed. The sewing machines and press are run by water power. It is quite interesting to watch how quickly the work can be done.

We stepped for a moment into the Tub and Pail Factory. The proprietors of this branch of industry deserve great credit for making it a success. Last fall the company was not able to dispose of its stock of wares, but it was only necessary to wait until the wares were introduced into the market to realize their fullest expectations. The foreman, Mr. Clark, informed us that last week they could not find enough to fill their order. Their tubs and pails are certainly the best we have ever seen. They manufacture tubs, pails, firkins and horse buckets (something new I think) and a very superior kind of clothes wringer and dryer. We wish all such institutions success in our State.

The rebuilt Oregon City Woolen Mills are certainly the pride of the State. The building and all the machinery are new and of the latter of the most approved and latest patterns. The mills are running day and night. They manufacture cassimeres, [illegible] and tweeds, flannels, blankets, yarns, &c. Many of their goods are manufactured into clothing, gents and boys clothing, and underwear, and can be had at Jacobs Bros., [illegible] Front street, Portland. Mr. R. Jacobs, President of the Company, showed us samples of cassimeres, blankets and other goods. We think the Company may well be proud of such work; we have not seen such before. They have nineteen latest improved double looms, five triple looms, six sets improved cards (self feeding), over two thousand three hundred spindles, two [illegible] dressers or twister for yarn, two latest improved shears for finishing, [illegible]. These mills will use about 800,000 pounds wool per year. The buying rates at present are from 22 to [illegible] cents. It requires about 600 cords of wood annually. About 100 hands are employed at present, only 2 of whom are Chinamen. Their present stock of wool is sufficient to last them until the next shearing.

Next week will be court week. Hotel keepers and lawyers [illegible].

The brick work of the University building at Eugene is rapidly approaching completion. Probably this week will see it finished.

A family of immigrants arrived at Dallas last week, from Iowa. They are pleased with Oregon, and will settle in Polk county.

The warehousemen of Corvallis are crowded from early morn until long after nightfall. The wheat now coming in is of the very best quality.

Robert S. Wellman sold his one fourth interest in the Wagner Creek Mine to E. K. Anderson and A. J. Rockfellow for the round sum of $2,561.

The crew of the Otago got up a sensation Tuesday night in Astoria in their efforts to desert, but Capt. Thorndike was too smart for them, and none got away.

The first quarterly meeting of the M. E. Church, for the Corvallis charge, for the new conference year, will be held Saturday and Sunday, 27th and 28th inst.

Harvesting on the Yaquina Bay is over, and with the exception of the [illegible] rot, the crops have been large. Potatoes, except the earlier varieties, are almost a failure.

Two gentlemen from the lower Columbia river propose establishing a fishery at the Dalles on Mr. Isaac Evan's place and will put up the necessary buildings this fall.

The boat for the Astoria Farmers' Warehouse Company's new pile driver was to be launched at four o'clock last Saturday evening. It is very evident that the Company mean business.

A young man named Y. M. Yarbrough had his leg broken near Clarke's mill, in Coles valley, last Friday, by a fractious horse which he was riding rearing up and falling on him.

Dallas is improving and property has an upward tendency. The vacant buildings are all fast filling up and from present indication the academy will be filled to its utmost capacity.

Mrs. Feagles, mother of Mr. Feagles, of Big Elk, in Benton county, arrived from Michigan last Wednesday evening. This lady is 71 years of age and traveled this long distance alone.

The cars now come into the Dalles from Celilo with grain. The Company has put on an extra boat on the upper river in order to bring down the wheat before the close of navigation.

There are quite a number of miners prospecting for quartz on Wagner creek, Jackson county, with fair success. The country thereabouts promises to be the mining section of the State.

The hunters of Yaquina Bay are bringing into the Newport market the fattest venison seen for several years. A ham, bought by Mr. Abbey, the other day, weighed over thirty pounds.

Mr. G. W. Teller, in Polk county, three miles from Salem, this season raised 2,170 bushels of wheat on a farm which, when he purchased it three years ago, was said to be worn out.

The amount of wheat in store now at Corvallis is approximated at over 100,000 bushels, divided as follows: Farmers' Warehouse, 45,000; Hamilton Bros., 40,000; Hyland's, 20,000 bushels.

There will be a meeting of the citizens of Eugene City at the Court House on Saturday, 27th inst., at 2 o'clock P. M., to organize a company to build a bridge across the Wallamet river at that place.

Several thousand bushels of flax seed have been raised in Benton county this season, the yield being enormous. J. Holgate, of Alsea Valley, had a field that produced over thirty bushels to the acre.

Mr. John Berthold met with a serious accident last Wednesday while engaged with Mr. Turner's thresher at the Graves farm in Linn county. His left hand was caught in the machinery and terribly crushed.

Presly Hall, who was sentenced to the penitentiary for a term of ten years for manslaughter, in April 1869, from Yamhill county, has been pardoned by the Governor. Hall has returned to his former home in Chehalem valley.

Wheat is reported coming into Eola in very large quantities. The warehouses are full and the grain is stacked on the bank of the river. Nearly an acre of ground is covered with wheat stacked up in sacks with no shelter over it.

Lafayette and vicinity was on Tuesday night of last week visited by a little more frost than many classes of vegetation could bear. Potato tops, tomato tops, and several other tops bowed in dutiful obedience to the exacting visitor.

A few days ago as a man named Huffman was oiling a threshing machine near Dixie, Polk county, his hand was caught in some of the machinery and the third finger of his hand entirely taken off. The second finger was thrown out of joint and the flesh all torn off.

T. C. Mulkey, who has been engaged in harvesting in Linn county this season, informs the Gazette that the thresher upon which he was engaged has harvested on an average twenty five acres per day, with an average yield of twenty five bushels to the acre.

On Thursday of last week, on Clark's creek, Baker county, a man by the name of James Tallman committed suicide by shooting himself through the head with a yager gun. The shot entered the side of his head above the eye, coming out on the other side, taking the whole top of his head off. There is no cause assigned for the rash act.

Messrs. R. C. Kinney & Sons, of the Salem Mills, inform the Farmer that they have a new run of burrs now ready to grind, making six in all, and they will add two more immediately, to be able to meet their large engagements for the season. With eight burrs running the working capacity of the mill will average 500 barrels of flour a day.

Capt. L. S. Scott, who has taken a short tour through the west side counties, reports to the Statesman that the harvesting is all done and all the farmers are busy threshing their grain, every machine available being pressed into service. Wheat as it is threshed is being hauled to market and sold. More of the grain in that section is being disposed of this season than on any previous year.

Ralph L. Jones, of Nehalem valley, has left with the Astorian samples of wheat grown upon his farm that cannot be beaten. The heads of the white winter measure from five to seven inches in length, and the crop will yield from seventy to seventy five bushels to the acre. He also left oats from his farm which weigh 47 pounds to the bushel. Nehalem valley is, this season, showing what she is worth as a grain producing region.

The Dalles Mountaineer of last Saturday says: "The Fair at this place closed yesterday. We think the managers of it made a mistake in holding it so early in the season. At this season of the year many of the farmers are engaged in threshing, and caring for their crops, and did not attend, but would have done so had it been later in the season. A fine display of horses and trials of speed constituted the principal attraction."

The body of Helen Huntly, who was drowned some time in May last, was found on the banks of the North Umpqua, near the residence of Jas. Dixon, last Sunday. The Coroner's jury found: First—That the name of the deceased was Helen Huntly. Second—That deceased came to her death by drowning, accidentally or otherwise. Third—That there is no blame to any person as causing her death. Fourth—That at the time of her death deceased was of unsound mind.

Our Baker City correspondent, under date of Sept. 14th, says: "Our weather for the past week has been warm, exceedingly so for this time of year, with cool nights. The grain in Powder river valley is now being harvested, and is good and abundant, but we have no market and grub goes for grain. It is a great shame that our magnificent Eastern Oregon valleys have no outlet for their products and stock. Baker City as a town is very much overrated by those who are not fully posted, and nothing but a railroad or new rich placer and quartz discoveries will ever keep the town up to its present standing. Your correspondent knows whereof he is writing and when, in a recent issue of the DAILY OREGONIAN you stated that Baker City must be quite a place to support two weekly newspapers and one issuing an extra edition, was trite and to the point. No, sir, this county and town will not for the next five years support two newspapers—one or the other will go down. Do not encourage any one to come here without capital to engage in mines, manufactures or stock raising. We have rich fertile valleys, splendid stock range, fine climate, etc., but now it is a poor country for the poor man."

A case of wife desertion and bigamy has recently been developed in Douglas county. About four years ago one Joseph Bruce came to that county and hired out to a lady named Ireland. This lady had an adopted child, a daughter called Miss Sarah Brey. From the first, a strong degree of attachment sprang up between Bruce and this young lady, finally culminating in marriage. Time passed along, all was serene. About two weeks ago apprehensions of coming trouble were aroused in the breast of the young wife by the anxious, nervous disposition of her husband. He appeared very desirous to go to Roseburg, and took a hundred dollars in currency without giving any valid reason for taking the money. He loaded his team, however, with wheat for Mrs. Ireland, brought it to Roseburg, left the team and wheat standing in the street, and since then nothing has been heard of his whereabouts. In the meantime a lady from the Wallamet valley arrived at Myrtle Creek who gave her name as Bruce and made inquiries of one Joseph Bruce, whom she represented to be her husband. This led to a mutual comparison of notes between the first named Mrs. Joseph Bruce and the second, and the only inference left was that Mr. Joe Bruce was a bigamist and had married a second wife while yet bound by law to the first.

THE TERRITORIES.

From all quarters of Northern Idaho do we hear of immense crops being harvested.

Prof. O. C. Marsh, of Yale College, New Haven, arrived in Boise City last week and left for Canyon City.

W. W. Anderson, of Montana Territory, has been appointed agent for the Indians of the Milk River Agency.

The servant girls of Denver have struck for $30 a month, two silk dresses and the privilege of the parlor every Sunday.

A fine new sloop of about 12 tons, called the Magnolia, owned by Pincus, Packsher & Blyth, has been lately built at Steilacoom.

Monday of last week three gentlemen passed through Lewiston, en route to Camas Prairie, with fifteen hundred head of fine sheep. They came from Douglas county, Oregon.

Many of our packers are complaining of the scarcity of freights at present. The fall freight for the upper camps has not yet begun to move in quantities, and hence the present dullness.

The expenses of the Yellowstone expedition will be cheerfully borne by the taxpayers when they learn that Prof. Hayden discovered two hundred and twenty seven different species of grasshoppers.

The Assessor of Ada county, Idaho, returns $43,900 worth of real property, and $778,771 of personal. Number of cattle assessed, 10,870; number of horses and mules, 1,354; number of sheep, 11,117; number of hogs, 2,060.

Messrs. Pincus & Packsher, of Steilacoom, intend building a large vessel. Work will be commenced on her shortly. These gentlemen built the Clara Light, one of the most successful of the many craft launched from the stocks on Puget Sound.

The man Brown, who was shot and stabbed at Ludlow some months since, has at last yielded to the effects of his wounds and is dying. This man has clung to life with wonderful tenacity, and for a long time it was thought he would recover from the wounds that in nine cases out of ten would have killed a man outright.

On Wednesday, the 3d inst., a sad accident occurred at the Port Ludlow mill. One of the employes, Nicholas Conly, had his right leg badly jammed against a "carriage" by a log making a sudden roll, while being placed in position. The [illegible] to Port Townsend on last Monday and was taken to the hospital, where he received every attention.

Never before during the summer season, says the Idaho Signal, has this region been visited with such copious rain showers. During the past week more rain has fallen in ten hours than did during any ten hours of the rainy season of last winter. We have heard of no particular damage being done to crops, and therefore it is probable that the country at large has been benefited.

Dr. Calhoun informs the Argus that Mr. Crandall, of Lopez Island, has recovered and is pronounced cured by his physician. Mr. Crandall has been laid up for more than two months from gunshot wounds, accidentally received, and only about two weeks ago Drs. Calhoun, Taylor and Hill amputated his foot, and the stump has entirely healed from first intention, which is unusual with old patients.

The Olympia Courier of the 19th inst., says: "Mr. Joseph Sherwood was killed almost instantly on last Thursday evening, at his logging camp, at the head of North Bay. Mr. Sherwood, in company with [illegible], was engaged in 'breaking a jam' on their skid way, when a log rolled on the iron shod handspike deceased was using, throwing the iron spike with much force against his [illegible] the jugular vein. The blow threw him head foremost against a log, killing him instantly."

The Deer Lodge Independent says a man by the name of Graves, who has a band of horses on Snake river, recently saw a man [illegible] his boat. He called to the [illegible] the boat, but he paid no attention to the warning. He then raised his Henry rifle, drew a bead on him and fired. The man fell overboard, disappeared [illegible], and was seen no more. He is supposed to have been Daniel Case, a horse thief, who has just [illegible] from the Olympia jail.

DON'T BE PARTICEPS CRIMINIS

A correspondent writing from Baker county says

"The recent Republican Convention at Albany passed a resolution in relation to the death of Hon J H Wilson from which I quote His high Christian character and scholarly attainments which elevated him above the mere politician rendered him a credit to the party and State and an eminently fit representative of a moral, intelligent and thrifty people And immediately afterwards the Convention passed a resolution endorsing Hon John Mitchell Hipple and smoothing away the facts in connection with his erratic course of life What sort of consistency is this and how can Republicans vote for the nominee of the Convention and who packed the Convention"

Well may it be asked what sort of consistency this is A member of Congress from Oregon whose private life was above suspicion and without reproach dies in the midst of his official duties, and the Convention well says he was eminently fit to be the representative of a moral people, because he was an example of good morals to those around him A Senator from Oregon, takes his seat at the same time the lamented Congressman takes his, and soon afterwards it is discovered that his entire public and private life has been one continuous fraud, the object of which was to conceal acts past and continuing which moral people scarcely venture to name in their families and the same convention declares that his life has been such as they pronounce consistent and honorable, and to entitle him to the confidence and esteem of good people How are these two resolutions to be reconciled? Is the reputation of our lamented Wilson, the people's Congressman, to be placed beside that of a man who pleads guilty to the charges that have been made in connection with the course of Senator Mitchell? If such is the reward of a pure life and faithful public services in this country, the gratitude of republics has certainly not been underestimated

"And how can Republicans vote for the nominee of the convention?" the correspondent asks There is one thing they can do They can stay away from the polls They can decline to be particeps criminis with those who attempt to make the crimes of any man crimes of the party The convention was packed, as is well known, by the same men for whose [illegible] purposes the infamous resolution was put through When this dishonor was saddled upon the party, so far as it was possible for that to be done by the office-holders' proxies, the Convention had accomplished the purpose for which it had been packed, and the question who should be the candidate for Congress, was one of little moment. Anybody who would consent to be led to the slaughter was accepted The nomination went begging until Hiram Smith, of Linn [illegible] to let his name be used Everybody knows, who knows anything about the circumstances under which this nomination was made, that Hiram Smith, jolly fellow though he is, could never have been nominated had it been possible to find [illegible] man [illegible] for the office who would accept the nomination on the bigamous resolution Hiram got the nomination because it was going begging, after a half dozen or so of really fit persons had declined to stand on the platform with the bigamous plank in it

There is no occasion for Republicans to vote for Nesmith, with his Bourbonism and his free-trade nonsense. Voting for a political heresy would be greatly preferable to voting to indorse rank immorality No political exigency can rightfully demand the sacrifice of conscience Moral principles are above all maxims of political economy But there is no necessity for voting for either the representative of moral rottenness or the exponent of political absurdity No better rebuke can be administered to the men who have committed this outrage upon the Republicans of Oregon, than that of staying at home and abstaining from taking any part in the election of a Democrat or the dishonor of the Republican party If Republicans give their votes to sustain this fraud, they will not only have the wrong upon their consciences, but they may expect similar disgrace to be put upon them whenever in the future the interests of the office holders' ring shall seem to demand it This proceeding has verified what we have said so often before, that the welfare of the party or the honor of the State is of no consequence to the ring They will sacrifice these at any time to accomplish their own private ends Living at Portland where this clique have their headquarters, we have watched their manipulations of politics for a long time, and we have spoken from actual observation of their infamous proceedings when we have said their pretended devotion to the harmony of the party was a sham and a fraud. Let Republicans now show that they possess discernment enough to penetrate the vails of these hypocritical mercenaries, and independence enough to refuse to be whipped into the indorsement of their crimes and the result will be the purification of the party and the restoration to it of the affections of the people

THE FINANCIAL CRASH

The failure of the banking houses of Jay Cooke & Co has been followed by that of a large number of other firms Not only in this country, but in Canada and in Europe banks and brokerage houses have fallen

The way has been prepared for this crash by the spirit of speculation that has filled the money markets of the world with stocks of fictitious value The swindles practiced upon foreign capitalists by our railway operators have had large share in bringing about the crisis Oregon is entitled to the unenviable credit of being one of the States that contributed liberally to produce this unfortunate state of affairs She has done her full proportion of the disastrous work Our railway bonds are at the bottom of the list with downward tendencies still

The idea that the agitation in the West on the subject of transportation has had anything to do directly with this collapse is unfounded Such a cause is inadequate to produce such an effect Indirectly the agitation may have hastened the catastrophe by opening the eyes of the world to the enormous frauds that were being perpetrated through the instrumentality of the railway corporations But the effect of the influence of the agitation upon the stock market could not be very great

It is a misfortune to the whole country, but especially to Oregon that these suspensions should have taken place just now Our railway system is not yet fixed, our routes of travel to and from the East have not been permanently established It is supposed the building of the roads that shall bring us into direct communication with the East may be embarrassed and delayed by this event

A POTENT JOURNAL

The main question now before the Republicans of Oregon is whether or not they shall consent to swallow the polygamy resolution Upon this there is a most intense feeling in every section of the State from Jacksonville to the extreme north and east The Bulletin is the acknowledged organ of the bigamous Senator and its supporters, the Custom House ring of Portland, were the tools used by the Senator to force the resolution down the throats of Republicans and yet that journal instead of coming manfully to the defense of the resolution and the character it whitewashes, sits and snivels and whines like a peevish child, what time it is not engaged in defaming the character of private citizens What sort of support, we ask is Hi Smith receiving from the Bulletin? If ever a newspaper was completely paralyzed by cowardice the Bulletin is in that condition When a daily paper of the pretensions of the Bulletin gets into such a situation that it dare not express itself upon the most exciting matter under public and general discussion, a matter too, in which its owners and its master are more directly concerned than anybody else, what is it fit for? A gorgeous educator and informer of public sentiment is the Bulletin

THE IRRESPONSIBLES

When Mr Geo H Durham, District Attorney, called upon the editor-in-chief of the Bulletin, Mr James O'Meara, to demand the authority upon which that paper had made insinuations against his honor, Mr O'Meara informed him that he knew nothing of the matter, as he never meddled with the department of the paper presided over by the associate editor, Mr H W Scott [The department of falsehood and [illegible] is the one assigned to Mr. Scott, we believe.] Mr Durham then went to Mr. Scott, but this gentleman disavowed all knowledge of the matter Such irresponsible journalism is beneath contempt. Just think of it, a daily newspaper so utterly irresponsible that a person who is defamed through its columns cannot find who is accountable for the libel without going through the whole establishment from editor-in-chief down to news boy. This is getting even lower down than the pea-nut arrangement

We are pleased to note the enlargement and improvement which has taken place in our valued exchange, the Willamette Farmer, during the past weeks An unusually large amount of interesting and profitable information may be found in the columns devoted to the dairy, the apiary, home and farm domestic economy and other agricultural departments The young folks have their corner and throughout is scattered choice selections of miscellaneous reading The editorial articles, from the pen of S A Clarke Esq, are spicy and pungent as ever The Farmer has all the evidences of a healthy growth We wish it abundant success, and take pleasure in recommending it to our readers on the farm and elsewhere, as an earnest, reliable agricultural journal and a teacher of sound morals

The associate editor of the Bulletin sneaks out of his accusation against us by saying that Judge Page does not tell the truth about it Judge Page's evidence was precisely that which the fellow demanded of us But then think of a question of veracity between Judge Page and Scott The very idea of such a thing is absurd Put the oath of Scott and our Williams and "Borde Dereckters," alias 'Jonathan Blinks late Hawes Tavern, Pennsylvania, into one scale in this community where all the parties are known and Judge Page's word into the other, and you will see the evidence of these worthies who have been working up this falsehood kick the beam in the most unceremonious manner imaginable

Sol King Esq, one of the delegates to the Albany Convention from Benton county, writes to set himself and Julius Bronson of that county right in regard to the passage of the resolution kalsomining the character of Mitchell We placed the names of Mr King and Mr Bronson among those of the white-washers These two delegates from Benton voted against the infamy every time and in every phase in which it came up We do not wonder that Mr King should write "be so kind as to correct as soon as possible

May be some one can tell us why the Bulletin which is making such a tremendous fuss about its efforts to secure Hi Smith's election has not had a single line against the political character of his opponent Col Nesmith It is noticeable that Mr Holladay's paper is very gingerly on the Nesmith question Don't you see the point Hiram?

Just before the meeting of the Massachusetts Republican Convention, the Boston Advertiser called for the adoption of resolutions whose clear unmistakable ring should be heard above the chink of Treasury gold at Washington and the roar of the surf at Long Branch It got them

A GOOD PLACE FOR SETTLERS

Lewis River Clarke County W T
September 18

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

I do not remember that I ever saw anything in your excellent paper from this section of the country and therefore thought that a few lines from here might be of interest to some of your numerous readers

This section of country is rapidly being settled by industrious and honest men and women, who will in a few years make good homes for themselves and children I would say to those who are seeking homesteads or land to pre-empt that they would do well to visit this settlement before locating elsewhere The land is very productive and although generally heavily timbered there is considerable swale open or brush land which is very easily cleared

To those who have some money to invest I would say that there are some excellent chances to buy land with some improvement on account of those who first settled not being able to perfect their titles

This immediate vicinity has not been settled but about one year but a stranger from its appearance would judge it had been settled at least three or four years As [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] and we expect in a short time to have a road four or six miles farther up There are two stores on the river to supply the settlers with such necessaries of life as they cannot produce [illegible] There are two post offices on the river at [illegible] [illegible] mail

A man by the name of Williams confined in the Douglas county jail and awaiting trial on the charge of burglary has been of no little trouble to the Sheriff for the past week First he attempted to break jail in which he so far succeeded as to sever the bolt to the door when fortunately he was caught in the act Then by the aid of a case knife shaped into a saw he cut off and hid in the ceiling of his cell his shackles A further was then put on one of his ankles Now he refuses to eat He will doubtless come to realize that he has less to hope from his obstinacy in this matter than anything else he might do and very naturally will take to his food again before many days

DROWNED —Last Friday about noon a man named Daggert was drowned in a slough near the Columbia about 15 miles above Astoria Daggert was employed by Mr Warren in getting out piles While standing on a log it turned, precipitating him into the water He could not swim and shouted to a man who stood a short distance away for assistance The man appealed to ran to the succor of Daggert, but did not succeed in rescuing him from a watery grave Daggert sank but instantly rose and on coming to the surface he clutched with the desperation of a drowning man at a log It was wet and slippery and he lost his hold and sank from sight and was seen no more The water where he was drowned could not be more than eight feet deep Dragging for the body commenced and it was recovered after several hours Deceased lived on a small farm near Young's river He leaves a wife and two children

COLLISION —A serio ludicrous collision occurred last Saturday on First street between one of the street cars and an express wagon The car was moving down First street at a rapid rate. An express wagon was [illegible] standing near the track some distance ahead The car driver gave the usual signal to "clear the way" The express driver attempted to drive his horse ahead but the animal became frightened and began to back. Before the street car could be stopped, a collision occurred. One of the wheels of the express wagon struck the side of the car As a natural result the wheel was smashed into "smithereens" and the vehicle violently capsized The wagon was loaded with fruit so that plums, pears and apples were sent spinning over the street in all directions like so many scared rats No damage resulted to the car, but the expressman will require the services of a blacksmith to repair the demoralized wheel

IN TOWN —E D Towl, proprietor of the [illegible] Panorama, arrived here on Saturday from Puget Sound, where he has been showing the Panorama to crowded houses The [illegible] all [illegible] in glowing terms of Mr Towl's [illegible] on Puget Sound, and he comes back to [illegible] armed with the endorsement of the [illegible] of officials in Washington Territory. On arriving in this city, Mr Towl was [illegible] surprised by one of our prominent [illegible] presenting him with an endorsement of the Panorama, recommending it to the patronage of the public This endorsement was signed by our two Senators in Congress and all the influential business men of the city who were fortunate enough to see it Our patrons who have not seen this truly meritorious work of art, should not fail to do so during the coming County and State Fairs, as Mr Towl will soon start for the Eastern States

RETIRED —Mr Arthur Crafield, who had filled the place of Junior Master in the Bishop Scott Grammar School for the past year, with [illegible] acceptance, took leave of his associates and pupils in a brief and feeling speech at the Chapel services on Friday afternoon last Mr Crisfield will hereafter devote himself entirely to the profession of the law The pupils of the Grammar School gave Mr Crisfield, on retiring, a beautiful edition of Shakspeare's works in six volumes in token of their appreciation of his efforts for their good

Mr Crisfield is succeeded in the Junior Mastership by Mr Wm M Baker, of Philadelphia, a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, who entered on his duties on the 15th inst.

FINE PEACHES —Mr H W Prettyman the well known nurseryman, laid on our table [illegible] several magnificent peaches which were [illegible] in his orchard this year These peaches are of the Early Crawford variety They are for size, richness and delicious flavor, superior to any peaches we have yet seen, and would not suffer by a comparison with the finest peaches grown in California

ENTERTAINMENT —On Wednesday evening a musical and literary entertainment will be given at the Congregational Church Among the well known artists who are to take part in the programme are Miss E. Cardinell, Miss Yarndley, Mr C Lancaster and Professor Yarndley A well selected programme is [illegible], and no doubt the audience room will be well filled on the occasion

AGROUND.—The bark Watterhorn, which was taken in tow by the Jose McNeir on Saturday evening bound for Astoria, ran aground near the mouth of the Wallamet. The bark [illegible] was also aground below St Helens as the Astoria boat came up the river Both the barks have, no doubt, got clear ere this, by taking advantage of the tide

APPEAL TAKEN —The case of Jim Pang charged with the larceny of clothes, came up for examination on Saturday in the Police Court. The court imposed a fine of $25 and [illegible] amounting in all to $65 Jim did not like the sentence and so appealed to the Circuit Court. The requisite bonds were given and the defendant discharged

REQUESTED TO MEET —All musicians vocal or instrumental who have volunteered their services on the occasion of the grand concert, to be given under the auspices of the Portland Hibernian Benevolent Society, on the evening of October 22d, are requested to meet for rehearsal this evening at 7 30 o clock at the Progress Club room

OUT DOOR SPORTS.

The trotting race which [illegible] day afternoon at the Multnomah [illegible] was well attended and proved quite exciting. The [illegible] horses were [illegible] horse Mystery and [illegible] sorrel horse Mac The race was mile heats three best in five The heats were won by Mac in the following time First heat [illegible] second heat, 2:48½ third heat 2:4[illegible] It was a closely contested race Mystery being beaten in each heat only a few feet

The early closing of many business [illegible] enabled several members of the [illegible] to come together and give their [illegible] censors a trial They could not expect [illegible] many runs against their young opponents [illegible] had got the thing down to a system, but they would try and accordingly assembled [illegible] the ball grounds last Saturday afternoon [illegible] play There was a remarkable [illegible] in the character of the spectators being [illegible] of many prominent persons and an [illegible] number of the fair sex Game was called shortly after 2 o clock the Pioneers taking the bat Each man obtained a run when Sutherland the ninth batter fell a victim and retired Wiley and Buchtel making up the complement to put the side out Quackenbush Jas Steel and Sheppard the first batters [illegible] for the old time players and this [illegible] the inning, as Cook Wadhams and Leahy [illegible] to reach even first base though [illegible] managed to get as far as second where he was left In the second inning, the Pioneers went around lively the runs being gained mainly through stealing bases Wadhams fearing to throw to the bases lest the result would be far more disastrous Two 'goose eggs' were now furnished the old boys and they were only allowed to get seven runs thereafter The Champions were very considerate at times in allowing their opponents a chance to make runs and it was very often the case where they couldn't well help it Several opportunities were offered the vets to make double plays and unexpectedly they captured a smart [illegible] who thought it was an easy matter to get a base. Toward the last the 'old fellows settled down to the work Wadhams couldn't stand more than one inning pitching, and resigned in favor of Salmon, who found the position was not quite the thing for him, though as "luck" would have it the champions didn't get many runs during his term Witherell took his place in the eighth inning Leahy going to the first Sheppard catching behind the bat and Salmon filling Sheppard's position—not a good change, except that it relieved Leahy and Salmon, who were glad enough to procure an easier situation Leahy played well behind the bat, and worked hard for two runs Jas Steel batted well and obtained two runs and although George sent some low long balls he was unable to get more than one tally Quackenbush played well on second, and Witherell improved towards the end Geo Steel didn't get a fair chance for a fly though the batters tried to send him one Vin Cook was unable to hold balls well, but when a good chance was offered to put out a man between bases he was there Two of the Champion men were placed hors du combat through Vin's sharp play He managed to tally one Jas Steel was unfortunate with flys, muffing several, but his batting made up for it. Sheppard did good work and deserves credit.

The Champions sent the balls in all directions, but "let up" a trifle now and then to admit of an "old timer" to [illegible] the ball on a fly or stop it short. Gearin's play behind the bat was the best we have seen him do this season That is just his forte, though he can do well at the bat and at the center field The whole nine played well, and could have done better if they had been willing to keep their opponent's score down Appended is the result

COOS BAY ITEMS

Our correspondent writing from Empire City under date of Sept 16th says

Coal shipment last week was 450 tons

The weather has been quite disagreeable lately

The lumber trade is dull at present owing to low prices offered in San Francisco

The schooners Parallel Gotama Arago and B H Ramsdell arrived and the steamer East port departed since the 9th inst

The Circuit Court for this county Judge Mosher presiding has been in session since the 8th inst and will adjourn to day Twenty six cases have been disposed of

The constructor of the tug Escort has received orders for a model similar to that of the Escort from Ben Holladay who intends building a tug to ply on the Columbia and Wallamet rivers

The O G T club gave an entertainment last Wednesday evening to an audience of some two hundred persons giving general satisfaction On Saturday evening they treated their friends to a social dance, at which Judge Mosher, Prosecuting Attorney Chenoweth, and other members of the bar excelled in dancing

SCALPED ALIVE.

[From the Oshkosh Northwestern]

The most horrible and shocking accident which it has been our lot to chronicle for many months occurred in the lumber and shingle mill of Buckstaff Bros & Chase on Saturday afternoon, 6th inst., about 4 o clock A girl named Amelia Grunall, aged about 18 years, was engaged in packing shingles in the shingle department She had a thick head of long hair, which was done up in a knot at the back of her head Just back of her and two or three feet above her head ran a shaft which drove a part of the machinery At the time mentioned, feeling somewhat tired in the position she was sitting she raised up and threw her head backwards Her hair caught in a coupling of the shaft, and wound around it, causing one of the most singular and horrible accidents on record In an instant and like an electric shock, the top of her head was torn completely off In deed, this is but a mild term as the dreadfulness of the calamity beggars description The scalp of the entire head reaching down to the eyes on the forehead and the shoulders at the back was torn entirely off leaving the skull bare and white and glistening To be more minute Start from a point just above the sockets of the eyes draw a line back just above the right ear following a line of the hair around to the place of beginning The eyebrows, of course were taken off and about one-half of the left ear The back being the last torn off the skin and flesh peeled off the neck to the shoulders, where it broke off The flesh was entirely and wholly taken off with the scalp, leaving the whole skull bare and shining, without a blot of blood or a particle of flesh

The dovetailing of different divisions of the cranium was distinctly and peculiarly visible The only places where it bled were over the eyes and around the edges of the wound where flesh was torn from flesh

Strange to say with all this horrible mutilation, the girl felt not a thrill of pain nor did she for hours after the accident happened She never fainted or acted otherwise than in her usual condition, and was perfectly rational from the first

While the other hands in the mill were in the most uncontrollable excitement she only cried to think how bad her mother would feel over it Mr Buckstaff hearing the commotion ran to the mill and threw a handkerchief over her head The girl walked without help to the office where she waited for a buggy to take her home She positively asserted that she felt no pain and that the tearing off of the scalp was accompanied with but a sharp tickling sensation This was doubtlessly caused from the fact that it was done with much rapidity The shaft was going at the rate of 200 revolutions per minute and considering that it only took two or three revolutions of the coupling to wind the hair completely up it can be easily computed that the terrible deed was performed in just three fifths of one second As soon as a buggy arrived she got into it unaided and was driven to her home nearly two miles from the mill talking calmly of the accident and how it happened all the way At one time she stood up on the seat to point out to the driver where she lived

In the meantime medical aid had been summoned and Drs A B Wright and Lande arrived there as soon as it was possible She received such care as the case demanded The scalp had been unwound from the flesh and sent after her by a messenger but when it arrived it was dry and dusty and could not be again affixed to the head The physicians state that if those about her had sufficient presence of mind to have clapped the scalp immediately upon her head and kept it compressed as far as possible to its place they would have been able to make it grow back again into its original position Sunday, Mr Buckstaff called upon her and she was seemingly easy stating that she had passed a very comfortable night and slept well She had but very little pain The only time that the pain had been at all severe was about two hours after the accident

This Monday morning, he is still further improved and in a fair way to a quick recovery The left ear has been sewed on in hopes that it may yet heal to its position

The only fear with the doctors is that brain fever will set in which is quite possible after the excitement of the accident has subsided

The scalp is perfectly whole and is being tanned with the hair on to be used as a wig if she recovers

Why will the scientific men frighten us so? They are continually trying to bully us with a comet or the conjunction of half a dozen planets or some other horrid thing that does not give us a ghost of a chance Now Professor Winchell says that the earth is continually cooling, and in time its thirsty crust will not only drink up the ocean but even the atmosphere and then the dry and shriveled old globe will go meandering through space without a living thing on it [illegible] And the [illegible] Professor calls this kind of talk recreations in popular science

Base ball is an [illegible] good exercise and capital amusement [illegible] bunged eyes broken skins and [illegible] We can tell you that in all such cases [illegible] resorted to it will reduce the swelling and stop the pain

JUST HOW IT WAS

AFTER BRET HARTE

Which I wish to remark—
And my language is plain—
That for ways that are dark,
And tricks that are vain
The Hipple we know is peculiar
Which the same I would rise to explain

John M was his name
And I shall not deny
In regard to the same
What that name might imply
But his smile was pensive and childlike
As I frequent could see by his eye

'Twas September the eleventh
And quite soft was the skies
Which it might be inferred
That John M was likewise
But he played us that day in convention
In a way all of which I despise.

Which we had a small game
And John M dealt the hand
It was euchre The same
He did not understand
But he smiled as he left on the train
In a way that was childlike and bland

Yet the cards they were stocked
In a way that I grieve
And my feelings were shocked
To see all their sleeves
[illegible] chock full of [illegible]
The same with intent to deceive

The hands that were played
Were quite frightful to see,
And the points that were made
Couldn't very well be
Except that the joker was out.
Railroad euchre—you see

Dolph played it alone
[illegible] best card
And raked in all the tricks,
Which we thought was quite hard
For we happened to know that John M.
Dealt the cards to his pard.

Then Harve looked at Dolph
And Dolph looked at me,
At which the Convention rose up
And said "Can this be?
We are ruined by Hipple's behavior
And they went for him [illegible]

In the scene that ensued
[illegible]
For the [illegible]
Like the leaves on the strand
With the proxies John M had been using
In the game he did not understand."

In his sleeves which were long—
He had forty-six Jacks
Which was coming it strong
Yet I barely state facts
That is always the way with conventions
Which Hipple [illegible] fully packs.

Which is why I remark—
And my language is plain
That for [illegible] is quite dark
And for cheap [illegible] of nerve,
The virtue of John is peculiar
Which the same I am free to maintain.
